VEGETINE.

HER OWN WORDS.

BALTIMORE, MD. Feb. 13, 1877.

MR. H. R. STEVENS.

Dear Sir,—Since several years I have got a sore and very painful foot. I had some physicians, but they couldn't cure me. Now I have heard of your VEGETINE from a lady who was sick a long time, and became all well from your VEGETINE, and I went and bought me one bottle of VEGETINE; and after I had used one bottle, the pains left me, and it began to heal, and then I bought one other bottle, and so I take it yet. I thank God for this remedy and yourself; and wishing every sufferer may pay attention to it. It is a blessing for health.

MRS. O. KRABE, 638 West Baltimore Street.

VEGETINE.

Safe and Sure.

MR. H. R. STEVENS :

In 1872 your Vegetine was recommended to me, and yielding to the persuasions of a friend, I consented to try it. At the time, I was suffering from general debility and nervous prostration, superinduced by overwork and irregular habits. Its wonderful strengthening and curative properties seemed to affect my debilitated system from the first dose, and under its persistent use I rapidly recovered, gaining more than usual health and good feeling, since then I have not hesitated to give Vegetine my most unqualified indorsement as being a safe, sure and powerful agent in promoting health and restoring the wasted system to new life and energy. Vegetine is the only medicine I use, and as long as I live I never expect to find a better

Yours truly, W. H. CLARKE,
120 Monterey Street, Alleghany, Pa.

VEGETINE.

THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE.

CHARLESTOWN.

H. R. STEVENS,

Dear Sir,—This is to certify that I have used your "Blood Preparation" in my family for several years, and think that for Scrofula or Cankerous Humors or Rheumatic affections it cannot be excelled; and as a blood purifier and spring medicine it is the best thing I have ever used, and I have used almost everything. I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. A. A. DINSMORE, 30 Russell Street.

VEGETINE.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1871.

MR. H. R. STEVENS :

Dear Sir—About one year since, I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. VEGETINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I procured the article, and after using several bottles, was restored to health, and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health. Respectfully yours,

G. L. FETTINGILL,
Firm of S. M. Fettingill & Co., 10 State St., Boston.

VEGETINE.

ALL HAVE OBTAINED RELIEF.

SOUTH BERWICK, ME., Jan. 17 1873.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.

Dear Sir,—I have had dyspepsia in its worst form for the last ten years, and have taken hundreds of dollars' worth of medicines without obtaining any relief. In September last I commenced taking the VEGETINE, since which time my health has steadily improved. My food digests well, and I have gained fifteen pounds of flesh. There are several others in this place taking VEGETINE, and all have obtained relief. Yours truly,

THOMAS E. MOORE,
Overseer of Card Room, Portsmouth Co's Mills.

Newport Daily News.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1878.

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE VENEZUELA MISSION.

ILLINOIS INDIGNANT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.

Mr. Baker's friends have requested the committee on foreign relations to take no action on his nomination to Venezuela. Letters and telegrams received here show much indignation at the treatment of Illinois. They claim that Kentucky, hopelessly democratic, not only gets an associate justice but a European mission; whilst Illinois, a republican state, is permitted to have an obscure South American mission.

PROCEEDINGS IN CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.

A resolution was adopted calling on the agricultural commissioner for information pertaining to the hog cholera.

Mr. Sargent, from the naval committee, reported, with an amendment, a bill to organize a life-saving and coast-guard service. Placed on the calendar.

HOUSE.

Mr. Bland asked if it was in order to move to go to the speaker's table to reach the silver bill.

The speaker replied it was not.

Mr. Bland then said that he should object to all debate that was out of regular order.

Mr. Stephens said he would, at the end of Mr. Clymer's speech, move to postpone the election case, for it had not been discussed at all, and take up the business on the speaker's table.

Mr. Foster suggested the gentleman make that motion now Mr. Clymer having been refused the floor.

Mr. Stephens made his motion to go to the business on the speaker's table.

The speaker remarked there would first have to be a morning hour, but he would recognize the gentleman to make a motion to postpone at the end of the speech made by Price on the election case.

That gentleman then addressed the house in favor of Darrall.

THE LIFE SAVING SERVICE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.

The Secretary of the Treasury has sent to the Senate a response to the resolution requesting information in regard to the condition of the life-saving service on the coast of North Carolina, in which he makes the following recommendations:

First—Augment the life saving stations upon that coast so as to bring them within an average distance of four or five miles. Second—To provide for five additional stations to be located at suitable points between the southernmost station and Cape Fear. Third—To increase the salaries of the keepers of stations to $500 per annum severally, and to confer upon those men the powers of Inspectors of Customs. Fourth—To increase the life-saving crew from six to eight. Fifth—To provide for the manning and opening of stations from September 1 to May 1, of each year, or for a longer period if expedient.

RESTORATION OF THE FRANKING PRIVILEGE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.

The senate adopted Mr. Hamlin's amendment to the Postal bill, restoring the franking privilege to the president, vice president and members of congress by a vote of 32 ayes against 21 nays. The bill as amended was passed without a discussion.

THE BOSTON COLLECTORSHIP.

Senator Sherman is on the floor of the senate. When asked if the appointment of collector of Boston would be made this week, he replied that it might not be. He was then reminded that Mr. Simmons's commission would expire on Monday, and he replied that it would not be absolutely necessary to make an appointment at once.

RUSSIAN OCCUPATION OF ROUMANIA.

CONCENTRATION OF 300,000 TROOPS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.

A London special despatch says it is rumored from Bucharest that 300,000 Russian troops are being concentrated in Roumania, and this is thought to indicate that Russia is determined to secure the objects aimed at in the peace preliminaries with Turkey, notwithstanding the protests of Austria and other powers.

ELECTION OF A NEW POPE.

HE TAKES THE TITLE OF LEO XIII.

The Balloting.

LONDON, Feb. 20.

Cardinal Pecci was elected on the third ballot.

It is announced that Cardinal Pecci, who it is reported has been elected Pope, will take the name of Leo XIII.

The Conclave's second ballot was to begin at five o'clock this afternoon. The smoke of the burning ballots in this case was not observed until a quarter to seven P. M., showing that the votes were much scattered. The Fanfulla says that Germany instructed Hohenlohe to declare that the election of an irreconcilable Pope would oblige the Government to take repressive steps immediately, whereas a moderate Pontiff could speedily terminate the existing differences. The French Cardinals, contrary to their first declaration, ultimately determined to unite with the Spanish, Austrian and German Cardinals in supporting a moderate candidate.

LONDON, Feb. 20.

The Times's Rome correspondent, telegraphing last evening, says: "The two moderate candidates for the Papacy have received the greatest number of votes. Sixty-two cardinals are in the conclave, the largest number ever before present."

LATEST FROM WASHINGTON.

MANY WORDS BUT FEW WORKS.

The Logic of Events on the Silver Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.

The fact that gold remains low and that United States bonds are now materially affected abroad, taken in connection with the opinion of the London Times that the passage of the silver bill will have little present effect upon American credit, has strengthened the silver men very much, and they has made it impossible for the president's veto to defeat the bill. It is undeniable that the opponents of the measure have been surprised at the slight disturbance of the market. Ewing and his faction in the house seem determined, if possible, to DEFEAT THE SENATE AMENDMENTS.

Should they succeed in this a veto would be almost certain to defeat the bill in the senate.

SUBSIDY FOR THE TEXAS PACIFIC RAILROAD.

The belief is general that the report of the house sub committee in favor of aid to the Texas Pacific road will be adopted by the full committee. If it comes into the house with the backing of the committee, there is a pretty general belief that it will pass.

EXECUTIVE BUSINESS.

It was agreed in executive session today that the senate would proceed to the consideration of executive business at 1 o'clock tomorrow. It is the expectation to dispose of the most important nominations now pending.

Danbury News :—"Mr. Cobleigh came home the other evening and said to Mrs. Cobleigh, "Matilda, there was a man shot himself through the heart, in Slawson, last night." "Horrors!" exclaimed the shocked lady. "What was his name?" "Kinman." "Kinman?" she ejaculated. "How old was he?" "About forty-five, they say." "Why, that must be Agustus Kinman. Goodness gracious! what a terrible blow this must be to his family! I am so sorry." "No, that ain't the name," said Mr. Cobleigh, hastening to her relief. "It was George Kinman." "Fshaw!" exclaimed the dissatisfied woman, "I didn't know him."

Nathan Appleton, a member of the Franco-American Union and the central committee at Paris, composed of Frenchmen and Americans, which has charge of the colossal statue of "Liberty Enlightening the World," by Sculptor Bartholdi; for the harbor of New York, has written a letter to the postmaster-general asking that the postmasters throughout the United States be authorized to receive and hold subscriptions for a pedestal to be furnished by the American people. In reply he has been informed that the committee can make such arrangements with postmasters as will enable them to accomplish the object in view.

Tit for tat. A 'Frisco tailor advertised that he would make dresses for women; and a fashionable dressmaker, resentful of the rivalry, advertised that she would make men's clothes "in the latest styles, at low prices, and warranted to fit."

A train on one of the railroads running into Boston, filled with girls and boys who go to school, is called "the flirtation train."

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

JANUARY SESSION.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 20.

SENATE.

Mr. Davis of Providence, from the committee on corporations, reported back petitions of James Richardson and others for an act to incorporate the East Providence wharf company. Continued to the next General Assembly with order of notice, in accordance with the recommendation of the committee.

The governor presented the petition of Moses H. Duplessis, convicted in the court of common pleas, December term, 1877, of forgery, for pardon and release from imprisonment.

Accompanying the application for pardon was a communication from the jurymen who convicted Duplessis, recommending that the application be granted.

The governor stated that after some investigation and delay, he had concluded to recommend the pardon. The man, he said, only received $5. He had already been imprisoned four months.

On the suggestion of the governor, the petition and recommendation for pardon, were laid on the table for consideration Thursday.

Mr. Chace, of Tiverton, presented account of Charles T. Northup against the State, ($175) for closing up the affair of the State Constabulary. Referred to the committee on Finance.

The special order of the day, the act to repeal the present registry law, and to enact the old law, was taken from the table. After brief discussions, the recommendation of the Judiciary Committee was adopted, and the act was indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Watson, of Jamestown, from the Committee on Accounts, reported back House resolution to pay account of Dr. King for examining disabled soldiers, for the Soldiers Home. Concurred in.

House substitute amendment to the resolution recommitting the subject of a location of a State Industrial School to the joint special Committee was concurred in, and the resolution was passed in concurrence as ammended.

The Senate then adjourned to Thursday.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. Sherman from the committee on education, reported bill to incorporate the Barrington Congregational Parsonage Association. Read and passed.

The bill providing a penalty for breaking and entering in the night time, a barn or stable, with intent to commit larceny, or any other felony, was taken from the table, when Mr. Spooner, of Providence, offered a substitute, including carriage houses, and other buildings not now protected by the statutes, in the provisions of the bill, which substitute was read and passed.

Mr. Littlefield, of Lincoln, offered a resolution directing the committee on finance to inquire what, if any changes are required in the several amounts which towns are now assessed in order that each town may pay its just and equal proportion of the state tax. Referred to the committee on finance.

Mr. Cook, of Warren, gave notice of his intention to introduce an act in amendment of Chapter 482 of the Public Laws and Chapter 39 of the General Statutes, making several changes in the taxation of personal property, one of the most important of which is to tax corporations instead of shareholders.

FRANCIS MURPHY AND FATHER MATHEW.

The Temperance or Total Abstinence cause is peculiarly American. It has flourished most and done the most in the United States and Canada, and it has been difficult to transplant it across the waters among our English cousins of the British Empire.

With this thought dominant, it is a most singular fact that the two men who have accomplished the most good for the cause of temperance in America were both Irishmen,—Father Mathew and Francis Murphy.

Father Mathew

first preached Gospel temperance, and administered the total abstinence pledge, as a religious duty, with the solemnity of a saint, and gave to the ceremony the priestly sanction of the church, the oldest Christian church of the world.

He went through Ireland with the pledge and gave it as a benediction to thousands and tens of thousands of people. Not satisfied with this, he crossed the Atlantic, and reared a monument in his goodness and labor of love here, that will last while ages roll by.

The hundreds of "Father Mathew Total Abstinence Societies" all over our land attest that "though dead he yet speaketh."

Francis Murphy.

Francis Murphy was born April 25, 1836, in the county of Wexford, Ireland. At the age of sixteen he came to America, and at the early age of eighteen he married Miss Ginn, a lovely Christian woman of St. Lawrence county, N. Y. By this union Mr. Murphy became the father of four sons and two daughters, all now living and dependent upon him for an education.

In 1863 Mr. Murphy enlisted as a soldier in the Union army, and served faithfully till the close of the war.

In 1767 he became the proprietor of the Bradley House, in Portland, Me.

In 1869 such misfortune came upon him as few men are called to pass through, and he stood in his home a broken-hearted man, having lost everything that made life desirable.

In 1870 he signed the pledge, and afterwards commenced lecturing on temperance, beginning at Portland, his own city, where he was known at that time as "the eloquent young Irishman."

Since that time he has labored in parts of the New England states, and is known throughout the west. Thousands and tens of thousands have been rescued from intemperance by his efforts, and the magic of his eloquent and impassioned pleading has, by the help of God, created such a temperance tidal wave as was never before known in America. It has risen highest in Pennsylvania and New York. Western Massachusetts is aroused. In the great west and at Washington the movement spreads. It is strong enough to stir Boston as no recent moral movement has done.

Francis Murphy, like the famous Irish priest, comes with the pledge in one hand and the cross of Christ in the other, and preaches temperance "with malice towards none, with charity for all."

He believes and preaches the doctrines of Christ's Sermon on the Mount, and the parable of the Good Samaritan.

As the advocate of Gospel Temperance, he feels that he is to undertake and carry out this good work. He does not labor to advance or injure the interest of any political party, nor does he come under the influence or auspices of any religious sect or denomination, but to preach Christ as one who saves to the uttermost all who come unto him.

Commissioned by Heaven

Liquor Dealers.

He does not stand away off and denounce the liquor traffickers as murderers and scoundrels, and the drinkers as wretches, but he draws nigh and takes them by the hand, and impresses them with his personal interest in their welfare, his love for them, and his earnest prayer for their salvation.

His Eloquence.

Mr. Murphy has been often described but never reported. The reporter may give his sentences, but he can no more report Francis Murphy than he could have brought distinctly before us the magnetic Reform Choate, delivering one of the most eloquent orations.

The critic may find fault with his grammar, and detect a word now and then not properly pronounced; but he will behold a whole multitude of faces bathed in tears, and he will listen to an orator full of inspiration, whilst the audience is full of enthusiasm. The pathos and power of the speaker cannot be transcribed to paper. The musical tones of his voice, so full of love and tender passion, cannot be reproduced in print. These are things the stenographer can no more depict than the photographer can catch the colors with his camera.

MORE ABOUT BILLS.

THANKS ARE DUE to many of those who received bills from me in the early part of the month, for the prompt manner in which they paid them; some who paid so promptly did not do so from the abundance of their means but rather that being possessed of fine natures and knowing that in buying they had accepted the terms on which the articles bought were sold, they had carefully regulated their expenditures so as to meet their obligations when due. All honor to them and their kind; may their numbers increase! There still remains a long list of unpaid bills, the holders of which can do me a great favor by paying. The money received is not wanted to store away in barrels or banks, but is wanted to pay debts that were contracted on the supposition that those owing me were to pay at this especial time. Who will help to do it? Let no one feel that what they owe is too small to be of consequence for all help, and all are gladly received.

apr23

The Newport Daily News and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted,) at the News building, 19 Church street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning, and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies, and at least one good story, the latest market and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from this city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week, payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal. Terms $2 00 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the whole year is paid STRICTLY IN ADVANCE. These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra, and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the daily for one week or longer Funeral notices 50 cents each Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty five changes a year. No gratuitous advertising for any object. The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both the News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

TO OUR PATRONS.

The publisher of the Newport Mercury has taken occasion, publicly and privately, to misrepresent the circulation of our papers as well as his own. In justice to ourselves and our advertisers, we have publicly denied the truthfulness of his statements and made a proposition to submit the proofs to a disinterested and impartial tribunal, which he declines, though persisting in his false statements. He probably refuses to exhibit his books in comparison with our own for the following reasons:

1.—They will show that he has not one-half the circulation which he persistently and publicly claims.

2.—That we have more than three times the circulation that he ascribes to us, both in the city and county of Newport.

3.—That his circulation is less now than formerly and has been subject to a steady decline.

4.—That ours has regularly increased and is now larger than ever before.

Newport Daily News.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1878.

THE DAY.

The insanity of Thomas Lord has been completely cured. Money did it.

The new Boston postoffice has cost thus far, over $1,000,000. And the end is not yet.

The Germans are well pleased with the prospect of having Bayard Taylor among them as the American representative.

There were three ballotings for a pope in the conclave of cardinals. The American representative, Cardinal Mc Closky did not arrive in time to participate in the election.

The English fleet declines to withdraw to Besika bay, and the Russians have announced their intention of occupying Constantinople. Rumors are current that they have already reached Therapia.

The faculty of Princeton College have resolved upon the dismissal of one of the Sophomores hozed the other night, and the suspension of ten members of the Freshmen class, the supposed Ku-Klux. The case of Atterbury, the wounded man, was allowed to lie over.

The Boston Post ought to be ashamed of itself for attempting to stir up ill feeling between native American and Irish born citizens. The Post should know that the days of Know Nothingism are past, and that no good citizen will allow prejudices of this kind to influence his action. Let it be understood that we know, in politics, no distinctions of this kind.

The Bourbon democrats are now waving the bloody shirt instead of the republicans. While President Hayes and his party are seeking reconciliation, and trying to restore the era of good feeling throughout the country, the Louisiana affairs are brought prominently forth by the democrats that the strife may be renewed. It is a pity that disappointed but still ambitious politicians cannot be made to take back seats in such times as these. The country wants and needs peace, and every man should be regarded as a public enemy who seeks to revive old issues and plunge us again into strife. A few more such demonstrations as those recently made and it will be evident that President Hayes has entered upon a mistaken policy, and that his well intended efforts for the restoration of harmony are all to go for nothing. And if we must fight over Louisiana, we shall also hear more of Hamburg, and Kemper County massacres, and the like outrages which furnish the capital for the other side. Neither party can afford to reopen this strife and we sincerely trust that our democratic friends will not try their hand at waving the insanguined garment. It is not in their line and will not inure to their benefit.

POPE LEO XIII.

No such difficulty seems to have been experienced in the election of a successor to Pius IX as was anticipated. On the third ballot Cardinal Pecci was chosen to the holy office, and it is announced that he is to be known by the name of Leo XIII. The new pope is sixty-eight years of age and is well known as one of the ablest and best men of the Romish church. He is said to possess great administrative qualities and to have a superior intellect. His presence is represented to be imposing, and he carries himself with something of the pontifical majesty of his immediate predecessor. Cardinal Pecci, as camerlingo (chamberlain) under Pius, wielded great power. The revenues of the church were under his charge. He is said to have formed a solution for the present and future troubles between the church and those who would confine its authority to purely religious matters. It is hardly possible he will commit the mistakes of Pio Nono, and endeavor to array the Roman church against all the tendencies of the nineteenth century. Pope Pius IX always entertained for him a strong affection and a great respect. No member of the conclave was more wholly in sympathy with the late pope than the cardinal who has now been chosen as his successor. His elevation is a disappointment to those who imagined that the new pope was to be a "Liberal." In person, Cardinal Pecci is tall, handsome and imposing, and in mind he is said to be quite the peer of any of his brethren.

ABOUT SEWERS.

Our townsman Col. George E. Waring has recently given a lecture on sewerage before the Social Science Association in Philadelphia. In the course of the discussion he said that in disposing of the liquid waste of a number of houses through the medium of public sewers these two general difficulties are to be overcome; first the pollution of air by the decomposing of foul material passing through the pipes, and second, the disposition of the material after it leaves the sewer's mouth. Questions of size, form, inclination, repairs, ventilation, location of outlet and cleaning come up as important matters. Passing in review the defects of the old systems that held formerly in New York and Boston, Colonel Waring intimated that a sewer is a disagreeable necessity, however perfect it may be, and then enumerated the requirements of a thoroughly good one. A thoroughly good sewer must be so tight as to prevent leaking; must have a fall or inclination, so constant as to avoid a sluggish flow; must be so ventilated that gaseous products shall be speedily removed; must be so constructed that the gases shall escape through channels purposely provided, and should discharge the material in a very few hours—these being the essentials.

THE LATIN UNION.

The Latin Union, so frequently mentioned in financial discussions, is a monetary league composed of France, Italy, Belgium, Switzerland and Greece, and is so named from the mainly Latin origin of the nations forming it. The purpose of the union was to establish and preserve a uniformity in the weights and fineness of the coins of those nations, and each nation receives the coins of all the others at par. The gold coins are 100, 50, 20, 10 and 5 franc pieces, and the silver coins 5, 2 and 1 franc pieces and 50 and 20 centimes. The coins are a legal tender to any amount for debts due the state from citizens, but only to the amount of fifty francs between citizens. The league was formed in 1865. Since the demonetization of Silver by Germany the relative value of that metal was changed so that restrictions had to be placed on the amount of silver coin to be issued by each government. A conference was to be held last month to readjust these restrictions, but it was postponed until next December. The annual silver coinage as now allowed is as follows: France, $5,400,000; Italy, $3,600,000; Belgium, $1,080,000; Switzerland, $750,000; Greece, $300,000. The ratio of gold to silver in the union is 15½ to 1. The union exists by its own terms till 1880, and if dissolution is not given one year in advance, the compact holds another fifteen years, and so on term after term.—[Exchange.

The New York Evening Telegram says that Senator Anthony has a fine walk. He jauntily, yet sturdily saunters, and his face with its gray beard handsomely hugging it closely, as if he were a man of great reserve, shows to advantage when the sunset falls upon it. His fine blue coat is buttoned closely about his well-shaped body, and his silk hat sits snugly on his head. Indeed, it sits closely, like the man's politics. Anthony in every way is a snug man. Snug in appearance, his very boots and gloves being snug, as if he hated to be loose or shaky or slouchy. This editor from Providence is a good parliamentarian, none too precise, unless it be in a matter of business politics, and a strict party man, because he sees within the humbug of gush. When Anthony talks he talks to some purpose, and now as he walks home to dinner he is walking to the purpose.

A New Haven gentleman has been very much disturbed of late by a loud buzzing noise, which generally began about midnight. It resembled the continuous roar of waves beating on the shore, and was at first taken for the notes of a fog horn. After a number of nights of fruitless investigation he went to the roof on a tour of observation, and at last traced the noise to two wires which ran near his bedroom window, and which, as he observed, were touching each other. The next day he found that they were telephone wires, and he applied for their separation, so that he might have uninterrupted sleep. From other sections of the city come complaints of similar nocturnal noises, which can undoubtedly be traced to the fouling of telegraph or telephone wires.

The Smith sisters of Glastonbury have petitioned the Connecticut Senate to let them vote. They say in their memorial: "For forty years have we suffered intensely, since the death of our father, for being born women. We cannot even stand up for the principles of our forefathers, who fought and bled for them, without having our property seized and sold at the sign post, which we have suffered four times; and also seen eleven acres of meadow land sold to an ugly neighbor for $50, land worth more than $2000. And a threat is given out that our house shall be ransacked, and despoiled of property most dear to us, the work of lamented members of our family who have gone before us. And all this is done without the least excuse of right or justice."

—The repetition of the concert at Touro Chapel last evening was well patronized, and the singers again acquitted themselves with credit. The concerts have not added as much money to the funds of the society as they should have done.

—Thomas James, one of the workmen on the steamers at Long Wharf, this morning met with a serious accident. He was at work upon a float when a plank from a staging above fell upon him. He was removed to his residence on Marsh street, where it was found that one of his legs was broken.

Shields on his arrival in this city. Invitations will also be extended to the other civic and to the military organizations of the city to join in the reception. Gen. Vogdes has kindly tendered the use of the Third regiment band for the escort.

THE NEW BOAT.

The steamer Falmouth, of the Boston and Halifax line of steamers, which has been chartered by the Old Colony Steamboat Company to take the place of the Old Colony, arrived here yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. She is a side wheel steamer, somewhat smaller than the Old Colony, has excellent accommodations, not only for freight, but also for passengers, and is one of the stanchest of vessels. But one trip was lost by the accident. The Falmouth did not go to Fall River last night but received her freight and passengers at Long wharf, the steamboat train arriving here before nine o'clock. Quite a number were on the wharf to see her new steamer. All were pleased with her appearance. She will be commanded by Captain Benjamin Simmons.

MARINE.

Revenue Cutter Samuel Dexter arrived at New Bedford yesterday, with schooner Emma B. Shaw in tow. This schooner on the morning of the 19th, while off Sow and Pig lightship, was run into by an unknown schooner, cutting the E. B. Shaw down to the water's edge amidship, and damaging her to such an extent as to cause her to leak, and disabling her from carrying sail on the wind. The cutter found her temporarily patched with canvas, off Tarpaulin cove and towed her to New Bedford where facilities could be obtained for repairs. The Emma B. Shaw is of and for Philadelphia from Booth Bay, Springer, master, with a cargo of 321 tons of ice.

THE CONCERT TONIGHT.

The Whitney Concert Party will probably give an entertainment at the Opera House this evening which will more than satisfy all lovers of good music. CITY COUNCIL.

A special meeting of the city council was held last evening to consider the proposed amendments to the city charter. The matter had been thoroughly canvassed in advance, and the following was agreed to.

1. The board of aldermen shall elect one of their number to take the place of the mayor during his absence, or in case of death.

2. The annual election is to be on the first Wednesday in December each year, to choose officers provided for by charter, and also one alderman and two councilmen from each ward. The new council to organize on second Monday in January, and proceed to elect subordinate officers.

3. The police department is to consist of chief of police and as many lieutenants and officers as the city council shall determine. The office of city marshal is to be abolished, and the chief of police to assume his duties; lieutenants and officers to be nominated by the mayor and confirmed by council in convention, the salaries to be regulated by city council.

4. On the 3d Wednesday in March the electors who are qualified shall be called upon to vote upon the following propositions—

1. Shall the city council elect the city treasurer.
2. Shall the city council elect the street commissioner.
3. Shall the city council elect the school committee.
4. Shall the city council elect the superintendent of public schools.
5. Shall the municipal year commence on 2d Monday in January.
6. Shall office of city marshal be abolished.
7. Shall mayor have the appointment of police, subject to confirmation by the council in convention.

These propositions are now to be submitted to the General Assembly for confirmation.

Near the close of the session of the board of aldermen, Ald. Brown of the fifth ward took occasion to define his position on the subject of granting licenses in the southerly part of the city. He explained that through an error of his as to time he was not present when the last licenses were granted, or he should have protested against them.

In his opinion there were liquor shops enough in this city and especially in his section of it. One of the men licensed was already adjudged guilty of violating the laws and is under bonds, and he thought the time had come when this business of authorizing every man to open a rum shop who desired it, should be stopped, and he begged the aldermen hereafter to force no more such institutions on the fifth ward.

CONANICUT.

The wind mill that was so seriously injured by the gale some time since will soon be at its work again, we trust for coming generations. As a relic of the past, as well as for its usefulness, it is worthy to be preserved.

The British people have always been very sensitive in regard to the letter u in such words as honor, and in the case of this word in particular the omission seemed to many educated people to take away from the quality of honor itself. It is one of the signs of the times, in the view of the spelling reformers, that the "natives," even of the higher classes, are beginning to adopt the American abbreviated form of this word. The Queen herself used it in an invitation to General Grant to dinner at Windsor.

Dr. E. Southey, a high medical authority, says that health and longevity are not synonymous, neither are health and great muscularity. The most muscular men, great prize-fighters, men who could fell an ox with their fists, have been known to be always ailing. Longevity is a rare attribute, but it does not signify health. The three oldest people the doctor ever knew—women who reached respectively 80, 98 and 100—were valetudinarians, and had been so nearly all their lives.

Horace W. Smith has in his possession a letter written by John Moore, the king's collector at the port of Philadelphia, March 10, 1715, in which he speaks of a few evenings spent in festivity with his Masonic brethren. This letter is evidence that there were freemasons in Philadelphia two years before the revival of freemasonry in England, and the establishment of the grand lodge, in 1717.

When we look around and see the large number of able-bodied men who spend their money and their time at the beer saloons, while their wives are stitching at home, or go out washing to earn money to keep themselves and their children from starving, we naturally wonder why more young men don't get married—and marvel more that so many young ladies do.—[Norristown Herald.

"What has Christianity ever done for man?" asked Bob Ingersoll, one day, on a Western train. "Well," responded a quiet old lady, "it has prevented Mr. Ingersoll being governor of Illinois."—[Com'l Adv.

Secretary Evarts denies the rumor that the state department is in receipt of any information that the French Government is discussing a postponement of the Paris Exposition because of complications.

NEW MAGAZINES.

SCRIBNER for March opens with "A Trip to Central America," by Ellsworth Westervelt, finely illustrated. Miss Trafton's serial "His Inheritance," follows with several exciting chapters. Margaret B. Wright contributes a paper upon life in France "An American Colony in a Normandy Manor House," illustrated with half a dozen exquisite sketches from the pencil of W. J. Hennessy. Louis J. Housel, a United States naval officer, gives some experiences in the West Indies during the earthquake season of 1867. H. J. Winser contributes "Dresden China," a description of the royal Saxony porcelain works at Meissen. There are seventeen engravings illustrative of the works and the ware. W. B. Bodine furnishes an article upon Kenyon College, which has graduated President Hayes. "Concerning a Certain Prodigal" is a sketch by Henry King. Susan A. T. Weiss writes on "The Last Days of Edgar A. Poe"; W. G. Sumner of "What Our Boys are Reading," a matter to be considered. Noah Brooks concludes his "Reminiscences of Lincoln;" Sara Holme has a story called "Susan Lawton's Escape." The four poems are "St. Valentine," by Caroline A. Mason; "Four Sonnets," by H. H. Boyesen; "O Pilgrim, comes the night so fast?" By Celia Thaxter; and Mater Amabilis," by Emma Lazarus.

Katherine Lee makes her first appearance in St. Nicholas in this March number, in an exquisite little story called "Hansel the Little Maiden." Edwin Hodder, an English author, begins "Drifting into Port," and Helen C. Barnard "The Boy in the Box." Sargent Flint tells about "Johnny," and Fannie Roper Feudge has a sketch called "A Monument Without a Story;" Mary Hallock Foote furnishes dainty illustrations for Miss Alcott's "Under the Lilacs;" James G. Austin has an exciting story of "A Night with a Bear;" Charles W. Squires gives a descriptive sketch on "Westminster Abbey," illustrated; and they are many other good things. The illustrations in this number are particularly fine.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY for March bears the imprint of the new firm. One of the noticeable features is the poetry. Mr. Longfellow contributes "Another Rosary of Sonnets," full of grace and beauty, and "The White Czar," a ballad. Mr. Whittier has a tribute to the late Gen. Bartlett, and George Parsons Lathrop and C. H. Cleveland each have poems. A paper by the late Gideon Welles on "The Opposition to Lincoln in 1861," is one of the series of papers began in the Galaxy. J. J. Piatt has a criticism upon "Mr. Stedman's Poetry," and Mr. Howells a study of Marmontel with the title, "A French Poet of the Old Regime." "The Story of a Swiss Ring Politician," by Arthur Venner, gives the account of James Fazy of Geneva, who played a daring part for many years in the little Swiss Canton. "Victor Emmanuel's Political work is by William Chauncey Langdon. There is another of Mr. Knight's articles on "Crude and Curious Inventions;" Mark Twain has a story of love-making by telephone; Mr. Warner tells the story of A Fight with a Trout; an Open Letter from New York discusses the tendencies of the modern drama; and Col. R. Williams contributes a paper on The Staff of the United States Army. "The Contributor's Club" and "Recent Literature" are filled with good matter. There is an installment of the romance "Detmold."

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for March contains the usual short romances, a good satire from the pen of Max Adeler the well known humorist, a pretty fairy story for children, and a choice collection of puzzles and games. The engraving is a spirited scene from The Betrothed. The third of the interesting papers on Hints on Home Adornment is given, and there is a fine design for a residence. The fashions will doubtless prove of interest to women kind.

THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW for January contains Democracy in Europe; Charlotte Bronte: The Education of Girls, their admissibility to Universities; Lessing, his life and Writings; The Indian Famine, How Dealt with in Western India; Charles Sumner; The Telephone; India and our Colonial Empire; Contemporary Literature. Republished by the Leonard Scott Publishing Company, New York.

In the story of "The Loves of Alonzo Fitz Clarence and Rosannah Ethelton" in the February Atlantic, Mark Twain shows how the telephone may be utilized for love-making and marriage. The sketch is delicious in its whimsicality and drollery. Here is a passage describing the dress of the heroine on a certain occasion, which shows a familiarity with the mysteries of a lady's toilette that must have cost painful study:—

Her dress and adornment were marked by that exquisite harmony that can come only of a fine natural taste perfected by culture. Her gown was of a simple magenta tulle, cut bias, traversed by three rows of light blue flounces, with the selvage edges turned up with ashes of roses chenille; overdress of dark bay farleton, with scarlet satin lambrequins; corn-colored polonnise, en panier, looped with mother of pearl buttons and silver cord, and hauled aft, and made fast by buff velvet lashings; bask of lavender reps, picked out with valenciennes; low neck, short sleeves; maroon velvet necktie edged with delicate pink silk; inside handkerchief of some three-ply ingrain fabric of a soft saffron tint; coral bracelets and locket chain; coiffure of forget-me-nots and lilies of the valley massed around a noble calla. This was all; yet even in this subdued attire she was divinely beautiful.

The old belt at Edmonton, associated in the opinion of most people with the fame of John Gilpin, that citizen of credit and renown, has been sold, and it is said the hostelry will be converted into a private house. It may be some consolation to the admirers of Cowper, who will lament its disappearance, to learn that the present structure is not that which existed in the time of the poet, and that it occupies a different site. Charles Lamb was a frequent visitor to the existing Bell, when he used to take his walks in the neighborhood of Edmonton, and the thousands of people, English and American, who have visited the place have served it to give it a kind of interest it does not deserve in connection with John Gilpin.

Count Segur immediately after the election informed the new Pope that he purposed to present him with a million francs, as the first donation of Peter's hence from a French episcopate. As soon as the result of the election became known, the bells in all the churches of Rome rang, and the diplomats went to the Vatican to congratulate.

It has been decided to take down the steeple of the United Church in New Haven, and substitute a short tower. Parties living near the church have agreed to pay $500 toward the expense involved in the change.

Diphtheria is raging at St. Albans Bay, John Leavack losing three children in five days, while three more are seriously ill, and one of the schools has been closed to prevent the disease spreading.

The famous Lotel known as Congress Hall, at Saratoga Springs, will be offered at public sale on March 2d.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A GENTLE HINT.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature,—rain wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day,—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing consumption, hemorrhages, pneumonia, severe coughs, croup or any disease of the throat or lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. German Syrup is now sold in every town and village on this continent. Sample bottles for trial, 10cts; regular size 75c. For sale by J. H. Taylor, Newport. feb21-eod&w1

THE LABORATORY OF THE SYSTEM.

The stomach is the laboratory of the system, in which certain mysterious processes are constantly going on. These result in the production of that wonderful vivifying agent the blood, which in a state of health rushes laden with the elements of vitality to the remotest parts of the system. But when the stomach is semi-paralyzed by dyspepsia, blood manufacture is carried on imperfectly, the circulation grows thin and sluggish, and the system suffers in consequence. Moreover, indigestion reacts upon the liver and bowels, rendering the first sluggish and the latter constipated. The brain also suffers by sympathy, and sick headaches, sleeplessness and nervous symptoms are engendered. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters reforms this state of things, gives permanent tone and regularity to the stomach and its associate organs, the bowels and liver, and ensures complete nourishment and increased vigor of the system. It is the most popular, as well as the most efficient anti-dyspeptic and tonic in America. feb20-1w-s&j

WAITING.

When rose leaves in long grasses fall
To hide their shattered head,
All tenderly the grasses tall
Bow down to veil the dead.

And there are hearts content to wait,
Still as the grasses lie,
Till those they love, however late,
Turn there at last to die.

SUNDRIES.

To keep yourself warm—Keep the fire cooled.

"Thyme is money" because it always has a cent.

Kissing is said to spread disease. But who fears this lip-rosy?

The Hindoo widow is the only one that cremates. The others remate.

The Graphic thinks that free canals will result in untolled amount of business.

At Napa, Cal., they advertise their sewing circle as "the kettledrum." Perhaps it is only a snare.—[Lowell Courier.

A Boston writer, in alluding to the musical taste of the Hub, says: "Our ears have been cultivated until they overshadow our organs."

In reply to the question, "Will the coming man be bald?" the Norristown Herald affirms that "he generally is when he first comes."

"Tell your mistress that I've torn the curtain," said a lodger to a female domestic. "Very well, sir; mistress will put it down in the bill as extra rent."

Miss Grundy signalizes her initiation to the Paragraphers' Association by inquiring earnestly, "Is the dollar of our dad what they call Government pap?"—[Graphic.

"You must cultivate decision of character and learn to say 'No,'" said a father to his son, "Chop wood," the boy said "No," with an emphasis that showed a remembrance of the lesson.

A little boy asked his mother to talk to him and say something funny. How can I?" she asked. "don't you see I am busy baking these pies?" "Well, you might say, 'Charley, won't you have a pie?' That would be funny for you."

Two Irishmen were proceeding in company to a jail yard to witness an execution, when one said to the other: "I say, Pat, where wud yez be if the hangman had his dues?" "Begorra," said Pat, "I'd just be walkin' down this shtreet alone."

We never realized how awkward, how needlessly stupid, how excessively and deplorably faulty nature is, so strongly as when we reflect on the painful fact that she never has been able to create a man that will fit a custom-made shirt.—[Hawkeye.

"Sir," said one barrister to another, "I often meet a servant in the morning taking two drinks to your room. Do you always drink in duplicate?" "Sir, replied the other, "I order two drinks every morning, and when I have drank one I feel like another man; than, sir, I am bound by courtesy to treat the other man, so I drink the second."

A story is told of a deacon in Tennessee, who was in the habit of riding a bucking mule—that is, a mule that can make a camel's back of its straight one, and, by a spasmodic movement of its four legs and hump, discharge its rider like a cannon ball. The other day they come to the edge of the worst mud hole in the state, and the mule gave unmistakable indications of bucking. The good deacon knew that he was about to be thrown, and his mind skurried about for a prayer. His table grace came easiest: "Lord, for what we are to receive make us humbly thankful." he exclaimed, and the mule had bucked and he was in.

MRS. GEN. GAINES.

By this time all the gentlemen in the room have gathered about her, but she is not abashed in the least. Wheeling sharply about, she suddenly remarks: "Shall I tell you my story?" and without waiting for any reply she assumes a semi-dramatic attitude and begins.

"You see before you a woman who has been more persecuted than any other woman on earth. In this great moral conflict which I have been waging for forty-two, no, forty-three years, I have suffered everything. In my native city of New Orleans my life was thrice assailed. Once the deadly bullet just grazed my hair—literally a hair-breadth escape—ha! ha! ha! Once a big Dutchman felled me to the ground with a heavy cudgel. I was prostrated in more senses than one—ha! ha! ha! I was unable to speak for ten days. You may guess I must have been pretty badly hurt when I did'nt talk for ten days—ha! ha! ha! But I am not dead yet. No, sir; I am a living example of what our sex can do if we have a chance. Why, no man on earth could endure what I have suffered. There are plenty of woman who could endure it, but not one man. And you see I haven't a gray hair in my head yet, not one. I may have some by the time I am 100 years, if you are alive to examine—ha! ha! ha! But where is Judge Foote?"

Not finding the object of her inquiry, after a rapid turn or two about the room, she comes back to the group, and the Hon. Carter opens the conversation again, gallant as ever.

"Mrs Gaines, I want to tell you one thing. When you get that great fortune of yours, look out! All of us young fellows will then be after you sure."

"I suppose so," chirrups the little lady.

"Yes," says the Hon. Carter, "you will surely find that it will be so. I am a widower myself, and I want it distinctly understood that I am down on the list. I am too poor to support you now, but when you get that great fortune I shall be around."

With this burst of gallantry the Hon. Carter bowed himself out, while the little lady fires at him this parting shot in the form of a general remark: "The man who marries a woman for her money is no gentleman." At this there is a great laugh at Carter's expense, under cover of which he retires.

"Guess he thought I meant him," remarks the little lady, and again she peers first out of one door and then out of the other, and again inquires for Judge Foote. Suddenly she darts out and in a moment returns, dragging along a decrepit old gentleman with a fiery red head, almost entirely bald, and a sparse beard entirely white. He leans heavily on a stout gold-headed cane, and drops quickly and wearily into his easy chair. Can it be that this is the Henry S Foote about whose extreme radicalism we heard so much in the ante-bellum days! Can it be that the raccurial, sprightly little lady is almost the twin in years of this decrepit old man? It seems impossible—one apparently in the very prime of youth, the other "lagging superfluous." They are two of Washington's characters, and both are mementoes of the past.—[Wash. Cor. Boston Post.

The total shipment of the California Mining Company for the month of January was $1,774,068 90, of which $912,985 50 was silver and $861,083 40 gold. The total shipment of the Consolidated Virginia Mining Company was $1,611,271 09, of which $861,561 01 was silver and $749,675 07 gold. Total from the two mines, $3,385,339 98.—[Virginia (Nev.) Enterprise.

Rev. Lorenzo D. Barrows, D. D., died on Monday at Plymouth, N. H. He had been in feeble health for a year past, but remained at his post of duty until a few days ago. At the time of his death he was President of the New Hampshire Conference Seminary of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Tilton. He was born July 1, 1817. In 1836 he became a member of the New Hampshire Conference, but on account of feeble health found it necessary to change his locality often. So he has filled prominent appointments in various cities of New England, Newark, Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Atlanta, &c. During the last ten years he has been in New Hampshire, where he was greatly beloved in Church and State, and his death will be a great loss to all the interests with which he was associated.

A ragged, shivering, middle-aged man called at a house on Sibley street and asked for food, but the lady of the house called out, "Why don't you work for your food?" "I would if I knew where I could find work," he promptly replied. "There's a place down town where you can saw wood and earn your dinner," she continued. That seemed to stick him for half a minute, but he finally said, with great solemnity, "Madam let me state a parallel case. There is a place in Heaven for you, but you don't want to die till you are driven right to it." She pondered over his philosophy for a few seconds and then called to a cook to pass out half a loaf of bread and some meat.—[Detroit Free Press.

William Cassius Goodloe of Lexington, Ky., who has been appointed minister to Belgium is well known in Rhode Island. His wife was a Rhode Island lady, Miss Mann, whose mother married General Leslie Combe of Kentucky.

One of the authorities of Warren recently issued a dog notice which warned "all those owning dogs to be muzzled for the next 3 months."

THE INSURANCE CO. OF NORTH AMERICA HAS PAID OVER

$30,000,000,

We state not so much an opinion as a fact, that will become apparent to any disinterested person who compares it with other papers, when we say that, for all residents of Newport county and all persons who have moved out of the county but wish to keep posted regarding affairs at their old home, the best paper without exception

BOVININE

CONCENTRATED

BEEF JUICE.

For purposes of nourishment "Bovinine" is fast taking the place of "Beef Extracts," being far better suited to the most delicate patients. Consumptives and those suffering from debility or low state of the system, derive great benefit from its use. In cases of poverty of blood, accompanied by General Debility, this invigorating preparation is peculiarly adapted. Physicians, after several months' trial, pronounce it one of the best articles of nourishment they have ever seen; it containing the chief essentials, in a form palatable and easily absorbed without taxing the digestive organs, and also being entirely free from any drug, they have no hesitation in recommending its use.
